Period for Reply -- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 08 April 2009.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Aoyama (5,838,767) in view of Yamazaki et al (2002/0196925).

Consider claims 1 and 3, Aoyama teaches a simulated user call test system and method in a digital stored program control switch (col. 1 lines 7-8), comprising a back process module, a front call control process module and a hardware subsystem for performing a call test (col. 1 lines 42-52), wherein: the back process module runs on a maintaining platform of the switch for providing an operation interface (i.e., workstation) for a user to perform a call test setup, receives call test result data transmitted by the front call control process module, and performs display and statistical processes (col. 1 line 53 – col. 2 line 13); the front call control process module is included in a main control module of the switch for receiving call test setup parameters provided by the back process module, controlling the hardware subsystem to perform a call test process according to a flowchart and user parameters set, and reporting a result of call test to the back process module (col. 5 lines 8-48); the hardware subsystem comprises function process units of the digital stored program control switch to receive instructions from the front call control process module, performing test comprising at least one of the following: picking-up or hanging-up phones, detecting signaling tone, dialing, sending test tone, or talking; and reporting test results to the front call control process module (col. 3 lines 21-36).

Aoyama simulated testing utilizing a workstation to complete the simulation of testing as alleged by applicant. Thus, Aoyama did not suggest where the simulated test call system is built in a digital stored program control switch or implemented within a digital stored program control switch. However, Yamazaki et al teach a simulation system and method disposed within the private branch exchange (i.e., control switch) to simulate control process of the private branch exchange (see abstract; par. 0011-0019).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of the ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the teaching of Yamazaki et al into view of Aoyama in order to enhance testing efficiency and reduce burden on the test operator.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 2, 4-6 and 7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-7 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
